

May 2015

monthly newsletter

Super Glue Corporation News: May 2015

Broken Bits Begone with Super Glue Single Use Gel

[Image: Super Glue Corp Twitter – via Bill G.]

Almost everyone has run into a situation where the smallest piece has broken off of a treasured item. Maybe it was a favorite nic-nac or a handmade craft project. In Bill G.'s case, it was the eye off of a stuffed toy turtle. No matter what, we want to get the item fixed and fixed fast before that tiny piece has somehow disappeared or gets eaten by your pet dog, Rover. Super Glue Gel Single Use Minis are good for making small repairs and they are fuss-free to use.

Read full article here...

How to Fix an Aquarium with Silicone Glue

In This Issue:

- Broken Bits Begone with Super Glue Single Use Gel
- How to Fix an Aquarium with Silicone Glue
- Super Cool View from the Pilot's Seat in a Mustang RC Plane

Links

- Super Glue Corporation Home Page
- Super Glue Blog

Follow us on:

Forward to a Friend!

[Image: <https://www.pinterest.com/>]

On the verge of a fresh business venture, I looked at my new office and realized it needed something. It needed something to bring a touch of the ocean in, something tropical, something with fins. Reigniting my past passion for aquariums, I fished my old tank out of storage and filled it up slowly to check for leaks. Surprise, we had a winner. Thankfully, the minor vertical leak in the glass seam would be easy enough to repair with Clear RTV Silicone Adhesive & Sealant.

Read more here...

Super Cool View from the Pilot's Seat in a Mustang RC Plane

This is amazing! So realistic! Check out this Super Cool P-51D Mustang Remote Control (RC) Plane ... You feel like you are in the Pilot's Seat!

Super Cool P-51D Mustang RC Plane

See the full article here...

Click here to unsubscribe | Forward to a friend